WEDNESDAY MARCH 14, 1894.

The Next United States Senate.

We stated the other day that the Demothe small one they have in the present Senate, whether the next House of Representatives should be under the control of the Democrats or not. This opinion as based upon the fact that the States will probably remain in the hands of that one of the great parties which | sional convention this fall? now has control of them. Republicans represent in the Senate the followsenators for the term above-mentionedgan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, and Wyo-

Twelve of the fifteen Democratic senstors whose terms expire next March will almost certainly be succeeded by Democrats, though the Popullsts may probably cratic antecedents. These latter senators, however, will probably vote with the Democrate, therefore, will be a Senate equally divided between the Democrats and their Republican opany possible Populist senator as a Democrat on all party questions likely o arise in the Senate. But the Vice-President is a Democrat, and will have sting vote. So that we reach the conclusion as before-namely, that the Republicans of the next Congress are not at all likely to be able to undo the Democratic legislation of the present Congress. This results is all that the ocrats will need; for just as surely as they are afforded an opportunity to a lvocate their measures before the people cill they be to succeed in securing the the people for those measne of the most strenuous and promising opponents of the Wilson bill, as it will be when it becomes a law, will before 1897 range themselves with its strenuous and uncompromising passage of the Wilson bill, or the Senate substitute for it. On the contrary, we uld have the tariff disposed of at as early a day as possible. We simply mean to say a word of encouragement to those Democrats who seem to have lost all patience with Congress, and who cannot understand why the Democratic party is to suffer from a delay occasioned rather by the Republicans than by the Democrats, Amongst the Democrats whose patience is well-nigh exhausted we count ourselves; but we cannot bid good-bye to hope. A righteous cause must triumph in the Trial of Petit Larceny Cases.

This of Petit Larceny Cases.

The Legislature passed a most outrageous and high-handed bill for the reorganious of the Richmond and Danville railroad system, and finally so managed things as to make it necessary that it should be called in extra session next winter, as the Richmond Dispatch has already amounced it will be The Fredeready announced it will be.—The Fredericksburg Free Lance.

Yes, we think that the two houses of the General Assembly will have to be called into extra session this winter-that to say, if the people of Virginia would not rather spend money than save it. But the necessity of an extra session which we foresee was not created by the General Assembly. The facts are these: Under a decision of the Virginia Court of Appeals it is no longer lawful to try petit larceny cases without the interion of a jury. Therefore, for instance, when a little rascal of a boy steals a chicken or a top he has to be indicted and tried by a jury, instead of by a magistrate. The additional cost thus imposed upon our tax-payers is enormous. Our criminal expenses are climbing up higher and higher every year, and now amount to almost double what they ought to be. Foreseeing this thing as the result of the court's decision, the Legislature of 1891-'92 passed resolutions submitting to the qualified voters of this Commonwealth the question of so amending the State Constitution as to allow the General Assembly to pass laws persons convicted of crimes, the punishment of which is not death or confinement in the penitentiary.

Now what should this General Assembly have done? Should it have approved these resolutions of its predecessor and legis-lated to lay them before the people in mber next, or should it have rejected the resolutions and consented that the unessary criminal expenses should go on? Which was the right thing to do? Why surely the right thing was to permit the the General Assembly determined to do. ent aforesaid will be adopted by people, and their it becomes a simple uestion of dollars and cents whether it rill be better to call the two houses into extra session to lop off the afored enormous criminal expenses, or mit those expenses to continue until time arrives for the regular session in December 1896! We must say that the Free-Lance u its satire and objurgations very freely upon the General Assembly which has just adjourned. We think that it criticises for perfection where it is unattainable. The only perfect legislators are those who have never been legislators at allparadoxical, but true in essence. The Free-Lance at least ought to admit that If there is to be an extra legislative session this winter it will not be because of any necessity that this General Assembly has erroneously created.

The Primary Election Plan It would be well for the City Democrati

Committee to consider carefully every proposed departure from that primary election plan which has found favor with our people. That some changes in it are desirable experience has taught us. For instance, the counting of the vote of the large white precincts should be expedited; it should no longer be required of the entire ticket because he has made erroneous marks upon it as to candidates for one or more offices, and persons who wish to contest the returns from any precinct should have their right to do so more clearly defined. But we doubt if enough time remains to us to try the Australian publican party. ballot at this primary. We sympathize with the purpose of those who would free vaszes more economically than they are now able to do, but we must consider the practical difficulties in the way.

The General Assembly did not make by that time the public would be sufficiently well informed as to the modus operandi of the new system. As originally drafted, the Walton law was to go into effect upon its passage; but upon reconsideration of this detail the conclusion was reached that it would be safer to make a there will be only a few candidates offer- charges against him. ing for the suffrages of the people, and when the voters will have an opportunity to experiment with the law under the simplest and most favorable conditions.

That it would be well to try the law at a primary before trying it at a general election we concede. As to this Chairman crats would probably secure as large a Patteson made a good point in his speech majority in the next United States Senate before the City Democratic Committee. And we may add that his position is the position that the Dispatch has long heldto-wit: That where possible the system should be tried at a primary, as a prepara tion for the experiment at the general which will have to elect United States election. But if we cannot arrange to try enators for the term commencing March | the Walton law at our municipal primary, are not considered doubtful States, what is to hinder us from trying it when we come to elect delegates to the congres-

We do not say that the City Committee should not try the experiment at the ap-States, which will elect United States proaching primary, but we do say emphatically that in our judgment the comnamely, Colorado, Delaware, Idaho, Illi- mittee should not enter upon any such exnois, Iowa, Maine, Mensachusetts, Michi- periment until it has escertained beyond all question that at our largest white preing the entire Democratic vote. So numerous will be the names of candidates upon our primary ticket, we apprehend that the average voter will take all of two and one half minutes to mark his ticket. Never one or two senators of Demo- at any general election will so much time be necessary to mark an official ballot (ticket) as there will be to mark our ticket at the approaching primary, where there are as many as a dozen men offering in some wards for the City Concil or the magistracy.

The simple question is, therefore, whether In this estimate we set Richmond's voting precincts are now so arranged as to enable the full Demo cratic vote to be polled at a municipal primary held under the Australian system, without incurring the risk of having to close the polls at the appointed hour upon a line of good Democrats, who, after patiently waiting, have been unable to gain access to the booth or ballot-box.

If there is any purpose to raise this question again in the City Committee, we advocate it will present figures from the registration-books to prove that our vote can be easily polled. Not to take this precaution would be to ask the City Comwholly unjustifiable

We do not forget that if the Australian ballot were adopted by the City Committee for use at the approaching primary the committee would have to go to the expense of providing booths and paying special constables. This, however, is a consideration of far inferior importance to whether after all our expenditures and trouble we could poll the votes of all the voters who presented themselves at the large white precincts.

Good and Orthodox

Our Republican contemporary, Wheeling Intelligencer, is responsible for the following paragraph:

"Senator Hill, replying to a delegation f business-men in New York last Saturday, said: I am in favor of a tariff high enough to enable American manufac-turers to compete with foreigners as far as the difference in wages is concerned. This is very good, but it is not orthodox Democracy in this day. It is precisely what the Democratic party in national convention refused to declare for."

The tariff described by Senator Hill was described in almost identical language in Democratic platforms adopted in Mr. Randall's day. But we need not go back so far. in order to show that it cratic party. The Intelligencer is right when it states that the very large, very conservative, very able Committee on Re solutions reported to the Chicago Confully justifies Mr. Hill's avowal that he favors a tariff high enough to enable American manufacturers to compete with foreigners as far as the difference in wages is concerned. We quoted that plank in full yesterday.

Besides, the Cincinnati Commercial has repeatedly charged that Mr. Cleveland himself approved the plank under con-We may, therefore, safely say that if the members of the Chicago Convention of last year had known that fact, the plank we quoted yesterday would have been in the Chicago platform to-day. We do not quote these utterances on the tariff question because we are desirous of having them repeated on the stump or advocated in the Democratic papers, but as a means of trying to induce Democrats to harmonize on the subject, and work together as good yoke-fellows ought to work.

The Register throws a fistful of lead into a Charlestown dispatch to the Richmond Dispatch about Second District politics and gives it special prominence on its editorial page. Ex-Senator Henry G. Davis is quoted as saying that he would "spend considerable money" to defeat Mr. William L. Wilson for Congress, and Senator Camden is said to have replied that "for every dollar that Mr. Davis put into the Second District to defeat Mr. Wilson he (Mr. Camden) would put two dollars into the district to secure his election.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

Let all good Democrats be warned in time that such dissensions as those referred to above are likely to follow an attempt to read all men out of the Democratic party who do not hold exactly the We would have Virginia Democrats es-pecially to labor to keep their party to-gether. This they cannot do if their lead-ers show themselves to be ultraists.

It is almost useless to attempt to satisfy the Populists and Republicans. For years they denounced the Anderson-Me Cormick law, and now it appears that they think it a fine thing.

If the tariff bill should pass in the form proposed by the Senate Democrats it would probably put a substantial surplus in the Treasury just about in time for somebody else to spend it.—Providence (R. I.) Journal.

Just so. The Democrats left a full Trea sury in 1889, and found a depleted Treasury when they returned to power in 1833. No wonder the Journal expects them to furnish the next Administration with a "substantial surplus," whether that Administration be Republican or Democratic. It is a confession that the Democrats are likely to frame a tariff which will lift the country out of its present deplorable condition-a condition chargeable to the Re-

IMPROVEMENTS IN PULASKI.

Hard at Work Upon the New Zinc Furnaces-Forgot the Brides.

PULASKI, VA., March 13 .- (Special.) -Mr. Thomas Jeres, late superintendent of the Bertha Zinc Company, is hard at work upon his new furnace, situated in the town of Pulaski. Mr. Jones has purchased from the Pulaski Land and Im-provement Company a number of acres of land for his plant. Extensive sheds have already been erected, and Mr. Jones expects in a few months to have his furnace in full blast. He makes zinc out of the oxide of zinc which is deposited in the flues of iron furnaces. In the natural state of fron-ore there is a small mix-ture of zinc, and hence this deposit. Mr. Jones is originally from Wales, and has had charge of furnaces in his rative counand also in Germany. He is thoroughly master of als business.

In the city elections which will take place next May the following are the candidates for office: Commonwealth's Attorney, Mr. Leonard Marbury, who will be opposed by Mr. L. C. Barley; City Treasurer, M. B. Harlow; Commissioner of the Revenue, Major George Duffey, and for City Sergeant, Mr. William H. Smith. By the new county road law a general superintendent is required, who will have to supervise all work done upon the public roads, which will not be paid for until it has come under his inspection and approval. An improved system of roadbuilding requiring a solid stone foundation with a gravel surface will then be begun. The superintendent, who will receive about $11,000 per year for expenditure on the roads, will be appointed at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors to-day. A great many have applied for the position, and the greatest care will be exercised by the board in making the selection.

THE RUSSELL FRATRICIDE.

John Makes Good His Escape—A Derailed Car Delays a Train.

NEWBERNE, N. C., March 13.cial.)-The coroner's inquest in the Russell homicide, in which John killed his brother James, revealed about the same facts as were given in these dispatches. John made good his escape and has not been heard of since. It is thought that no vigorous effort to procure his apprehension will be made. The shooting was done in the heat of passion, and from the fact that he aimed at his brother's legs would indicate that he did not intend to kill. It is said that if prompt surgical attention could have been had James would have lost only a limb, and not his life. The derailing of a car of a freight train on the Wilmington, Newberne and Nor-

WREATHS, SPRAYS, & MONTURES

Our buyer bought the entire stock of FLOWERS from a New York importer who was unable to weather the financial crisis, and was compelled to sell to realize cash. The lot comprises over eight hundred cartons (all new goods-inported within the past sixty days) and branched and arranged in the newest designs and effects for millinery and corsage purposes.

This lot will be put on sale 10-DAY and the prices will be just half less than nsual. It will pay you to buy them and lay away for future use in case you are not ready to use them now. Choice of this lot of over fifty designs for 48c.—usual price $1.

MILLINERY. A number of Pretty, Nobby Hats for e 1 season wear will be shown for the first time TO-MORROW.

OUR EASTER MILLINERY OPENING will take place on MARCH 19TH and 20TH-MONDAY and TUESDAY NEXT when we shall have our entire importation of FRENCH PATTERN HATS AND BONNETS here for your inspection. KAUFMANN & CO., corner Fourth & Broad sts.
